

TriStaX

Trilateral Staff Exchange and Development Programme on Inclusive International Competences at Stellenbosch University

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY
(United States)

STELLENBOSCH UNIVERSITY
(South Africa)

UNIVERSITY OF HAMBURG
(Germany)

15 - 19 September 2025 in Stellenbosch, South Africa

The Trilateral Staff Exchange Programme (TriStaX) is co-organized by Northwestern University (United States), Stellenbosch University (South Africa), and the University of Hamburg (Germany).

Enhance your cross-cultural communication skills and connect with colleagues from three continents.

Join this year's programme on

“Cultivating Global Excellence through Inclusive International Competences”

at Stellenbosch University!

This year, Stellenbosch University will provide a five-day programme on the topic of Inclusive International Competences. The theme addresses in detail the topics of intercultural skills and inclusion and aims to provoke a joint discussion on internationalization within diverse university fields. The topics are introduced alongside best-practice examples from Stellenbosch University, which will be explored in joint discussions.

Participants will be made up of equal numbers of members from Northwestern University, Stellenbosch University, and the University of Hamburg.

This call for applications is directed at staff members within the faculties and central administrations who are looking to enhance their professional skills and international network.

Apply to be part of the cohort of 2025 and make professional and personal connections that last!

CONTACT

Stellenbosch University: Lidia du Plessis (lidia@sun.ac.za)

Northwestern University: Kim Rapp (kim.rapp@northwestern.edu)

Universität Hamburg: Eva Leptien and Regina Siemß (int-stafftraining@uni-hamburg.de)